EUROPEAN EUROPÄISCHE

HYPOCRISY HEUCHELEI

NOW YOU SEE ME MORIA is a self-campaign made by Moria Camp refugees to bring awareness to our current situation and an urgent call to European policy makers for a change.

Since August 2020 we - an Afghan refugee living in Camp Moria on Lesbos (Greece) and a photo editor based in the Netherlands - have been collecting photos and sharing stories that document life in the camp. A Syrian refugee there and another Afghan man joined later. It was an attempt to make people across Europe aware of the situation. Many of the stories were picked up by the media. But nothing has changed. In the meanwhile, visibility has been reduced to almost zero: journalists and photographers are not allowed to the new camp while NGO workers are instructed to not take pictures. Visibility is key to invoking change. In a collaborative effort we wish to confront fellow citizens and politicians with the outcome of the failing European migration policy.

We need change!

We will explain our stories. We want you see and hear us but at the same time we will preserve the intimacy and right to privacy of our children. We will never use real names and the subjects will remain unidentified.
